Exhibit Of Dahlia Society Draws 2,500 At Westgate

An estimated 2,500 attended the 34th annual show of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society Saturday and Sunday at Westgate School to see 1,000 entries representing the best blooms produced in the tri-state area this season. The show attracted visitors from New York and Virginia as well as from communities in nearby parts of Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia. The quality of the exhibits was good, despite the fact weather conditions were against growers last season, show officials commented.

An arrangements division added interest. Camera Club members had special invitations to attend the show Saturday night. Another highlight was a demonstration of Japanese flower arrangements by Mrs. Lloyd Fox of Smithfield St. Riverview Greenhouses presented an orchid display.

In addition to the immediate East Liverpool area, visitors were registered from Youngstown, Niles, Warren, New Philadelphia, Zanesville, Mentor, Steubenville, Pittsburgh, New Castle, Greensburg, Ellwood City, Canonsburg and Parkersburg.

Leo C. Lawrence of East Liverpool won the sweepstakes in the open dahlia division with Rosemary Dahlia Gardens of Martins Ferry as runnerup. Glenn Ruth of Amherst won the large amateur division dahlia award. Mrs. L. S. Davis of Cleveland was runnerup. Michael Vohar of East Liverpool won the dahlia novice division sweepstakes award. Frank Richmond of Chester was first in the basket-bowl-vase arrangement division. In the "open arrangement" division, first place went to Mrs. Anna Patterson of Wellsville with Mrs. Dorothy Kountz of East Liverpool, second.

The Garden Club arrangement division award went to Mrs. Maxine Burch of Chester with Mrs.

Mariet White of East Liverpool as runnerup. In the amateur arrangement division, the top award went to William Haugh of Wellsville, followed by Mrs. Ivah Geiseler of East Liverpool. The novice arrangement division award went to Mrs. Wayne Dorsey of East Liverpool, followed by Mrs. Geiseler.

Steel City Gardens of Pittsburgh took the sweepstakes in the rose division. Lawrence was second. He also won the award for the largest and most perfect rose.

In the special award division, Jerry Kovar of Phalanx Station entered the largest and most perfect "A" dahlia. Mrs. L. S. Davis of Cleveland had the largest bloom. The best vase of three "A" size dahlias was entered by the Rosemary Dahlia Gardens of Martins Ferry. Kovar had the best "B" size dahlia and the best miniature dahlia.

J. T. Eccleston of East Liverpool was given the award for the best ball dahlia in the show. Lawrence entered the most perfect pom-pom dahlia.

The American Home Achievement medal went to Rudy Motznik of Pittsburgh for a "B" formal dahlia. Other winners and exhibitors in the dahlia division included Frank Shone of East Liverpool, P. G. D'Annunzio of Pittsburgh, C. F. Lasch of South Euclid, Robert Wilderoder of Beaver Falls, Fred Freese of Aliquippa, William Haugh of Wellsville, William Craine of Smiths Ferry and Charles Glover of East Liverpool.

Probe Begun Into Death Aboard Ship

Battered Body Of Divorcee Found In Harbor At Boston

BOSTON (AP)—A winsome and talented secretary of a university professor, returning from the Orient, was victim of violent death on shipboard after the world-girdling vessel left Boston, investigators said today.

The savagely battered body of Lynn Kaufman, 23, pretty Chicago divorcee, was found in Boston harbor Saturday, a day after the Dutch passenger-cargo steamer Utrecht sailed for New York.

The Utrecht cleared Commonwealth Pier, Boston, at 6:15 p.m. Friday. Conversation was held with the girl through her cabin door, at 6:55 p.m.

In addition to the crew and a pilot, the ship carried 11 passengers. They included Juanita Spector, wife of Prof. Stanley Spector of Washington University, St. Louis. Prof. Spector, who was not aboard, had employed the young woman two years ago as secretary and during the past year as interpreter in his Far East studies.

Lynn made her home with the Spectors in Clayton, Mo., outside St. Louis.

It was Mrs. Spector who talked with the girl through the door. Dr. Michael A. Luongo, medical examiner, said of the 100-pound, 5-foot-2 victim's death: "the official cause is drowning. However, she had several multiple blunt injuries about the face, head and other parts of the body, also severe brain injuries which were incurred before she drowned. The multiplicity of the injuries makes me go to the conclusion that this is a case of violence. I don't believe they could have been caused by a fall from a ship."

Dr. Luongo said he found no evidence of sex attack.

Pennsylvania Plane Wreck Takes 5 Lives

INDIANA, Pa. (AP)—A private twin-engine plane crashed and exploded in a wooded area in this western Pennsylvania community Sunday night killing five persons and injuring three rescue workers.

Several hundred persons, on hand for a sky show, witnessed the disaster.

The plane, a Piper Apache, smashed into a clump of trees when it attempted to land on the runway of the newly dedicated Jimmy Stewart Airport, about 60 miles east of Pittsburgh.

Spectators rushed to the scene shortly after the plane crashed and pulled the occupants from the plane. Minutes later the craft's gasoline tank exploded, injuring three persons.

Killed were the pilot and owner of the craft, Wayne Hess, 41, of nearby Clymer R. D.; and passengers Edward Stahura, 27; his brother Andrew, 31; Blaine Johnson, 26; and Joseph Ricupero, 26, all of Indiana.

The injured were admitted to Indiana Hospital in fair condition.

8 Are Killed, 2 Hurt During Highway Crash

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—Eight persons were killed and two others seriously injured early today in a collision near here involving a tractor-trailer, pickup truck and passenger car.

The accident occurred shortly after midnight on a stretch of two-lane highway on U.S. 460.

The tractor trailer, a milk carrier, jackknifed and burst into flames.

Seven of the car's occupants were killed in the accident on a straight stretch of road. Police said it appeared the west-bound car was attempting to pass the pickup but instead collided with the oncoming tractor-trailer.

Negotiations Are Resumed In Steel Tieup

Federal Mediators Continue Efforts To End 69-Day Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations in the nationwide steel industry strike resume here today after a recess since Friday.

Federal mediators continued their efforts toward settlement of the 69-day-old strike.

The strike of 500,000 members of the United Steelworkers of America has idled approximately 175,000 employees in related industries almost 90 per cent of the nation's steel production has been shut down.

The union is seeking a substantial wage increase and other benefits in a new contract. The industry, seeking a one-year freeze on wages and benefits, contends that any increase in labor costs would force a rise in steel prices and spur inflation. The union denies this.

Prestrike earnings averaged $3.11 an hour, according to federal government figures.

PROTEST AGAINST KHRUSHCHEV. This sign carried by a man and a woman was viewed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev from the balcony of his hotel at San Francisco Sunday. The Russian leader pointed to his head, stating "Some people are happy people." He then pointed to the sign carriers and said "There is always one fool in the crowd." All-in-all, Khrushchev received one of the most cordial welcomes at San Francisco since his arrival in the United States. (UPI Telephoto)

Khrushchev Boils As Labor Prods

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev kept his peculiar brand of belligerent diplomacy going full blast at a tumultuous dinner session with a group of American labor leaders Sunday night. The Soviet Premier, according to the union chiefs, blew up on at least a half-dozen occasions and wound up conceding: "Our positions are irreconcilable."

Walter Reuther, Auto Workers Union president and spokesman for the labor group, said Khrushchev accused him of being a dictator and "a capitalistic stooge."

"I certainly think Mr. Khrushchev feels we gave him a very bad time—he made that quite clear," Reuther told a jammed news conference after the three-hour, 20-minute private dinner.

The union men said they blasted communism in no uncertain terms and told Khrushchev of American workers' devotion to freedom. They said Khrushchev defended the Communist system and both sides thereupon agreed to disagree.

No effort was made to tone down questions, Reuther said, although there had been advance word State Department officials wanted to avoid having Khrushchev further irritated on his American tour. Reuther said his group had received no request for a kid glove approach.

Khrushchev didn't budge an inch. When asked about the 1956 revolt in Hungary, suppressed by Soviet troops, he accused the revolutionaries of being "hooligans and saboteurs."

Why is it that Soviet workers have no right to strike—a freedom extended workers in this country—Khrushchev was asked.

His reply, the union men said, was that Soviet workers have such a right, but never exercise it feeling, according to Khrushchev, their government will take care of them.

Emmi Rieve, board chairman of the Textile Workers, asked Khrushchev if it weren't possible to have socialism without dictatorship.

"He sort of lost control of himself at this point," Reuther said. "He attempted to dismiss it as a stupid question not worthy of discussion. He never answered."

Mr. K Changes Pace During Frisco Visit
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Outspoken Nikita Khrushchev, who seems to plunge into an argument at every formal dinner, changes his pace again today.

His schedule calls for sightseeing by boat and by automobile, with a look at a housing development, a supermarket and a drug store.

Nowhere—at least until tonight—is he likely to run into a dispute similar to the one he had Sunday night with seven American labor leaders.

At this dinner, so the union leaders reported, Khrushchev vigorously defended his system and his policy, including the putting down of the revolt in Hungary.

Those who started the Hungarian revolution, Khrushchev said, were "hooligans and saboteurs."

The labor leaders said they defended the capitalistic system just as vigorously.

Man Forfeits On 2 Charges After Mishap

Foreign Car Strikes Another On W. 9th; Pedestrian Struck

A Pleasant Heights motorist forfeited $87 today in Municipal Court on two charges as the aftermath of an accident early Saturday night on W. 9th St.

The mishap was one of five reported by police over the weekend, including one in which a pedestrian claimed he was struck.

Harry Croxall, 29, of 1929 Lisbon St., forfeited $56 for leaving the scene of an accident and $31 for driving left of center. He was cited at 6:28 p. m. Saturday, 14 minutes after a small foreign car he was driving struck another Pleasant Heights man's car at W. 9th and May Sts.

Kenneth L. Baughman, 39, of 829 Louise St., told officers he was headed east on W. 9th St. at the intersection with May St. when he saw Croxall's car on the wrong side of the road. He said he halted but Croxall's car struck his auto on the left side.

Croxall said he was headed west in the car owned by Carroll Motor Sales when the collision occurred.

George Philabaum, 68, of 728 St. Clair Ave., reported to police he was knocked down in Green Ln. at 11 p. m. Saturday by an unidentified car. Philabaum told police the car was a 1953 brown auto but said he did not obtain the license number.

A parked car owned by Isaac Clark, 220 Walnut St., was damaged when struck by a stock car being towed by a truck driven by Clarence G. Bates, 28, of Steubenville Sunday night.

Bates told police he was turning off E. 3rd St. onto Walnut St. when the stock car swung out and struck the Clark car.

Warm, Sunny Weather Will Continue Tuesday

Warm, sunny weather that moved into the East Liverpool area over the weekend will remain at least through Tuesday, the Ohio forecaster said today.

It will be windy today, but the high temperature will range between 84 and 89, the weatherman said. It will be fair and a little warmer tonight and Tuesday, with a low tonight in the 60's.

Dam 8 at Newell recorded a high of 80 Sunday at 3 p. m. The overnight low was 58.

Will Press Shelving Of Seat Issue

Robertson Ready To Lay It On Line At Assembly Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States planned a stern indictment of Communist China today — the week before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev goes to Peiping for a visit.

U.S. delegate Walter S. Robertson was ready to lay the charges before the General Assembly and urge that the question of seating the Chinese Reds in the U.N. be shelved for the rest of this three-month session.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon and a high Soviet delegate — perhaps Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov — were expected to take the lead in seeking a hearing of Communist China's claim to U.N. representation.

Menon has done this here year after year, to no avail.

Robertson, an Assembly delegate for the first time, was a firm opponent of Communist China in his six years as assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

A U.S. delegation source said Robertson's speech would be "the strongest we have made on the subject" in the eight years the Assembly has refused to take up the question of who should represent China.

Robertson was expected to accuse Communist China of crushing Tibet, meddling in Laos, menacing Nationalist Formosa and occupying parts of India—all by way of showing she was not peace-loving and so not entitled to sit in the U.N.

The informant said the United States counted on getting a decision to shelve the China issue this year by a vote equal to or better than last year's when the balloting was 44 to 28 with 9 abstentions.

Khrushchev gets back to Moscow next Monday from his 13-day U.S. tour, and will leave the following day for Peiping for the Oct. 1 celebration of the 10th birthday of the Communist Chinese People's Republic.

Steubenville Man Escapes Pen In Atlanta

ATLANTA (AP)—A convict broke out of the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary Sunday night while most of the other inmates of his cell block watched a movie. Warden Fred T. Wilkinson identified him as Frank Lewis Rush, 29, of Steubenville, Ohio, serving two years for interstate transportation of a stolen car.

The warden said Rush was assisted by two companions who apparently helped him use a steel pipe to separate the bars on a window at the end of the cell block.

The window glass then was broken, the warden said, and Rush went out, climbed over a picket fence near the front of the prison and escaped across a field.

Guards heard the sound of breaking glass and captured the other two men while they were still inside the cell block, the warden said. Their names were not available.

Rush was working as an orderly in the cell block.

Tax Take Will Be Up

Real Estate Appraisers Are Due Here In Spring

By GLENN WAIGHT
About the time March is due to "come in like a lion," front doorbells of city homes will begin announcing the arrival of county real estate appraisers whose visits may not bring as big a pocketbook pinch as expected.

The value of property has naturally increased since the last appraisal in 1950-51, and the tax take will be up when the first collections are made in 1962.

BUT COUNTY officials are hoping that the addition of new construction and certain readjustments by the County Budget Commission may hold down the amount of taxation effect.

Off the record — because it is far too early to estimate the end result of the appraisal with any accuracy — it is thought the overall valuation will be up about 10 per cent, while the tax effect may be only about 7 per cent.

A seven-man crew has been busy since mid-July in rural townships, seeking to complete as much of the outlying areas as possible before winter sets in.

THE FIELD men are finishing at Lisbon and Salineville, will move on to Leetonia and perhaps East Palestine, and will arrive at East Liverpool next spring, as soon as Wellsville is completed, according to Adin Kauffman of Columbiana, director of the project.

A periodic appraisal of real estate — required by state law — every six years provides a property valuation on which taxes are collected. Such a survey gives an up-to-date value to real estate by determining whether the value has declined through depreciation or changes in the neighborhood or increased through improvements or other reasons.

Since the last appraisal, which was based on 1941 construction costs, there has been a rise in prices of labor and materials along with other factors which have brought about a boost in property values.

THE CURRENT appraisal is based on 1956 construction costs which are three times those of 1941. Furthermore, the state is pressing for an equalization of taxable values of 45 per cent of the true value of a home, compared to the present 33 per cent taxable value.

Nevertheless, County Auditor Kenneth Bell believes the addition of new construction values in the past five years will boost the county valuation enough that it will provide a greater tax yield, permitting a readjustment of rates so that tax payments will not be as proportionately boosted as the valuation.

In other words, with the average county home worth roughly VALUATION VISIT. Kenneth Long of Wellsville, field deputy from the county auditor's office, checks off house construction factors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hart, 297 W. High St., Lisbon, while Mrs. Hart looks on. Long and six other field men are conducting a reappraisal of county real estate as required by state law.

$10,000 in sale value on the market and valued at around $3,000 for tax purposes (33 per cent of the true or market value), the average homeowner is paying around $100 a year in property taxes.

If the overall county valuation does go up 10 per cent, and Mr. John Public's home is valued at $11,000, the potential tax take will also go up 10 per cent.

BUT THE COUNTY and subdivisions won't get a full 10 per cent tax return because state law requires levies outside the 10-mill limit must be readjusted to provide the same yield as prior to the reassessment. Thus, with the readjustment, the general tax increase will be about a 7 or 8 per cent, depending on many factors.

The taxes within the basic 10-mill limit of subdivisions will reap the full amount of the valuation boost, Bell explained.

But the budget commission will readjust levy takes for bonded indebtedness and other issues outside the 10-mill level, with the revised levies garnering the same amount of money with a lower tax because they are figured on an increased valuation.

Some 57,000 cards, representing parcels of land in the county, are the working basis for the valuation system now being updated. The 9-x-6-inch cards contain the information on the location, owner, size and quality of all real estate in four classes — commercial, rural, residential and exempt, the

Using a 10-foot pole, the field men measure the buildings, list the dimensions and make a rough sketch of the property. On farms note is made of the topography (level, rough, rolling or hilly), soil (clay, sand or loam), road (paved, dirt or gravel with gas mains, sewers or water lines) along with type of farm produce, amount of tillable land, pastures, orchards, timber land or waste.

Residential land factors checked off include the type of street, utilities, land and whether the district is "improving, stable or declining."

On the back of the card are spaces for listing descriptions of the home — the type of foundation, exterior walls, roofing, floors, basement and attic, interior finish, heating system, fireplaces, lighting, number of rooms, plumbing, tiling and outbuildings.

THE NUMBER OF occupants, type of construction, age, condition, extent of remodeling, depreciation and estimated replacement value are also listed.

The field men request permission to enter the home to determine these factors, showing an identification card as a deputy from the auditor's office. The men are legally permitted to go into homes by Section 5713.17 of the Ohio Revised Code, he said.

Both Bell and Kauffman emphasize it is to the advantage of a home owner to admit the field men in order to get an equitable value of the building and an effective overall appraisal.

The auditor said the staff won't go to court if a home owner refuses to admit them, but the appraisal value will be given a top listing for each factor, thus boosting the taxable value of the home.

THE FIELD MEN make at least three returns to a house if the owner is not home, because the interior inspection is needed and the property holder is asked to sign the appraisal card to show his home has been appraised. Bell said the firm which conducted the 1951 survey did not inspect the inside of many houses.

If the homeowner is not present, a mimeographed sheet of property questions is left at the door for him to fill out and mail to Lisbon.

Kauffman said the daily practice of the field deputies — who work from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. — is to measure the exterior of about 20 homes early in the morning, then go back later for the visits when the owner's breakfast is over and the youngsters are off to school.

PROPERTY improvements or additions since 1952 will mean an increased valuation, generally speaking. Added baths, family rooms, porches, breezeways or garages will boost the appraised value. New driveways, sidewalks or paint jobs will not add to the value, so anyone delaying a paint job until after the visit can start buying brushes.

Master sheets have been compiled by the United Appraisal Co. on 1956 construction figures — labor and materials — who obtained the cost estimates for home construction throughout the county 3 years ago.

These sheets and construction factors have been prepared for six classes of home — ranging from plush mansions to makeshift summer cottages. Prices are based on the square foot cost and on re-

THE 1950-51 appraisal was performed by the Cole-Layer-Trumble firm at a cost of $120,000 — $114,500 for the firm and $5,500 for extra help.

The ground site valuation of the commercial properties will be done by the United Appraisal Co. of Cleveland next summer.

The Cleveland firm trained the local staff for the appraisal work, set up a land value rating system based on 1956 construction costs and is to do the ground site valuation of commercial properties all for about $10,000, Bell said.

The rating system cost $4,500 and the ground site work will be $2,000. These costs are included in his overall estimate of the general reappraisal.

The first step in the appraisal process is to prepare new parcel cards from the old ones, changing the filing system from alphabetical as arranged at the Courthouse to a general geographic system for use in the appraisal office.

THESE CARDS ARE taken by the field men to the actual farm or home, and the site is verified with maps of the township, range and section.

lated depreciation and what the house does or doesn't have.

For example, a wood burning fireplace for a Class 4 home is worth $750 added to the fundamental price of the home shell, while a second complete bathroom is listed at $530.

USING THE individual property cards filled out by the field men, the office girls refer to the master sheet for the class of home, and list the estimated value of the home on the basis of the card information. This actual evaluation process will not get under way for three or four months, Kauffman said.

Once the valuation is launched, two of the best field men will be assigned to double-check the process by revisiting the properties for a final field review required by the state. This may be started in some outlying townships by winter.

Abstracts, revised on the basis of the new valuation, will be prepared by the auditor's office and sent to state authorities for review and comparison with sale prices of the 1956 period. If the appraisal is then approved, the percentage of taxable value is then fixed.

That the northern part of the county has had more new construction in the past four years than the rest of the county has been obvious to the auditor's office for some time.

BELL SAID THE tier of townships on the county's northern border — Unity, Fairfield, Salem, Butler and Knox — have had much more new home building than elsewhere. In the Salem School District alone the auditor's office recently listed an increase of $4 million in new housing.

The appraisal has not progressed far enough to obtain a valid summarization of the property trends in most other parts of the county. The figures of the commercial and industrial valuation by the Dayton firm have not yet been supplied, Bell added.

It is this new construction throughout the county that Bell hopes will indirectly help hold down the unwelcome but necessary effects of the re-evaluation upon the individual's tax budget.

THE APPRAISAL will put a realistic foundation under the county tax structure, and help make stable the public financing needed to provide police, courts, roads, health programs, schools and hundreds of other routine but essential and costly services to residents of city, township and county.

40-Hour Week Near For Soviet Workers

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union says her workers soon will have a seven-hour work day and a 40-hour week.

The Communist party's Central Committee announcement over the weekend appeared to have been timed for Premier Nikita Khrushchev's meeting with United States labor leaders Sunday night in San Francisco.

General wage increases in the future also were announced.

The same announcement said the minimum wage will be 450 rubles a month, compared with 300 rubles now. The unofficial rate for the ruble is about 10 to the dollar.

Most Soviet workers have been working an eight-hour day, six days a week.

Keep Fighting For Rights, NAACP Told At Ohio Rally

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A prominent Negro leader told delegates at the Ohio convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People Sunday that "you must have the same dedication of purpose that Negroes in the South have, even though you in Ohio are relatively better off."

Thurgood Marshall, chief legal counsel for the NAACP, spoke at the windup of the three-day convention marking the 50th anniversary of the Negro organization's founding.

"There are two things we must do," Marshall said.

"We must appraise our position, and we must regain the dedication of purpose we had a few years ago before we got 'used' to the rights we won," he declared, adding:

"We haven't won the complete victory yet."

Marshall stressed the importance of the NAACP continuing its struggle to gain more civil rights and less segregation for Negroes.

"One very prominent man has said the NAACP should go slower. A news commentator recently said

Industrywide Bargaining In Steel

Whatever may be the ultimate outcome of the steel strike of 1959, some of its lessons already have been taught.

It is clear that management can prepare to deal with a strike as painstakingly as the Steelworkers Union can prepare to call and maintain a strike.

Preparations by management in the 1959 strike have given the union a united front to contend with, and its attempts to break up the unity have been unsuccessful. There is no law to prevent industrial cooperation of this kind in the furtherance of trade.

It is similarly clear that the union strategy of using industrywide bargaining to make certain that management could not play off one segment of unionism against another has brought into being a counter-concept of industrywide bargaining by operating companies to keep unionists from playing them off against one another. This may not have been foreseen by unionists at the outset, but it has begun to loom large in the strategy of collective bargaining. The auto industry also has shown signs of unity in dealing with industrywide unionism.

Government intervention, which United Steelworkers wants — or says it wants—is a two-edged knife. There already has been government intervention in the steel strike, in the sense that President Eisenhower and various spokesmen for Congress served notice on management that it could not pass the bill for a wage settlement to the consumer without risking a government crackdown.

This cut the ground from under the union at the outset. And though it seems not to have occurred to the union and its allies in unionism yet, further insistence on government intervention might make it still plainer that the government is more interested in stabilizing the price of steel than in putting the industry back into production for the sake of bailing out the leadership of United Steelworkers.

If the union were to continue the strike until it had created the kind of an emergency that would justify an injunction to return to work for an 80-day cooling-off period under the Taft-Hartley Act, it could be in the awkward position of sending its men back to the picket lines and relief lines in time for Christmas.

Mr. K Encounters The Press

One question — and it was about the only one — was clearly answered when Nikita Khrushchev appeared before the National Press Club: Why was the Communist totalitarian willing to subject himself to the press conference?

The answer: He is a guest of this country and he doesn't speak the native tongue.

Among the posers put to him by some of the most prying members of the American press were a few that could have been downright embarrassing. How, for instance, did he justify Russia's intervention in the Hungarian revolution? Or what did he mean when he said he would bury America?

As it turned out, though, the premier did not seem to be a bit embarrassed. He simply didn't answer the questions. He poured out long evasions and rebuttals and circumlocutions, but never came right to the point of answering the questions.

Because he is a guest of this country, he got by with it. The reporters present were polite enough to submit their queries in writing and thus precluded the possibility of pressing the matters.

Mr. Khrushchev got a further assist from the language barrier. All of the questions and all of the answers had to be translated two ways. That allowed plenty of time for carefully weighing the dialectics to be used. It also gave him the advantage of the margin of error ever present in the translator's art.

The latter point was emphasized when the American Broadcasting Co. called attention to the discrepancies between the versions of the premier's official translator, who spoke a more or less classic English, and those of its own translator, a United Nations veteran who used the idiomatic approach to catch all the slip, slur and spice in Mr. Khrushchev's statements.

How envious must have been the American politicians who had a chance to see the performance. Facing the press is an entirely different experience when the reporters speak your language and aren't given to accepting evasions, rebuttals and circumlocutions as the final answers to their questions. No less a personage than the President of the United States has been pinned to the wall when he tried to play footsie with a persistent press.

How happy the American people should be that that is the way things are done over here.

Did You Register?

The Columbiana County Election Board is nearing the end of another campaign to register present unqualified East Liverpool residents so that they may be eligible to vote at the Nov. 3 municipal election.

No stone is being left unturned, with branch registration offices set up and the board's headquarters functioning on a 13-hour schedule.

The registration deadline is 10 p. m. Wednesday.

Those who fail to register and to vote are delinquent in an extremely important phase of civic responsibility. Voting in a democracy is a privilege in that the voter may express a preference and not merely go through the motions of marking a ballot.

Mr. K gets the voters out in Russia without much trouble — but they have little choice in their selections of candidates. They vote the way they are told to vote—or else.

The American way is better without question, but it will take the continued interest of the average citizen to keep it that way.

If you aren't registered, get to the Election Board office before 10 p. m. Wednesday. It's located at 129 W. 6th St., opposite the City Hall.

The Once Over

There are now 70 million autos in U.S. Given a minimum of two passengers per car this means 140 million people tossing around impolite looks at all street intersections.

Estimating that the human body can hold 80 ounces of discourtesy, this means there is 700 million pounds of ungraciousness on the highways.

What 70 million automobiles can do to human nature and common politeness staggers the imagination.

Courtesy which was pretty general in the days of horse and buggy began to shrink fast with first 50 cars.

This reaction was at first limited to frowns and a slight look of irritation if a cow or horse appeared dead ahead. When the first 5,000 cars had been produced in America the snarl on human lips went up 80 per cent.

With the arrival of the first 100,000 cars the bark became as common as the spoken word, profanity came into full bloom and the traditional "Hi, neighbor" gave way to "Get over, ya big bum," "Where did you learn to drive" and "Get the—off the road."

When the 500,000th car had hit the road the wall mottoes "Bless You," "Good Luck" and "Friendship To All" were yanked off the walls and replaced by "Gangway," "Out Of My Way" and "Yield Or Else."

BY THE TIME total cars had reached the 25 million mark human beings had developed intense scorn for one another. Most folks were declaring the Declaration of Independence said, "All men are created equal except when out in the open air."

The 50-million mark was hit some years ago, and by that time all traditions of graciousness, love of neighbor and the idea the other fellow had any rights had disappeared. Now with 70 million autos on highways the common cry is "An eye for an eye and an oath for an oath."

The leer on the human face has become fixed. Even people leaving the church parking space after the sermon on love and charity leap into their car, brush off all religious principles and battle for every inch in the rush for the home.

(We just checked with Washington to see if the 70 million figure was correct. It was. We are volunteering for the first trip to the moon.)

IT MIGHT BE a better world if everybody went fishing. The influence of angling on peace can't be belittled. Still the news that Yale, Harvard and Princeton have fishing teams which compete off Nova Scotia has its amusing side.

Since We're Comparing Notes

Invitation To A Grave Crisis

By Raymond Moley

Twice in three months President Eisenhower warned Congress that the artificial interest limits on long-term government securities was an invitation to a grave crisis for the nation — an open road to inflation which might sweep over all of us.

Politics, and perhaps failure to understand the seriousness of the problem, prevailed. First the House and finally the Senate provided a wholly inadequate answer.

The heart of the issue is something that most of us regard as of interest only to bankers, insurance companies and other heavy investors. But when its full significance is made clear it comes into the lives and homes of every American.

It is concerned with the question whether the federal government, in meeting the huge obligations by borrowing, will act in a way to check rather than further feed the fire of inflation. It is easy to understand a part of the issue. Anyone who has some money to lend or invest will seek a borrower who will pay the highest price for the use of the money.

Individuals, trust funds, pension funds and institutions are not buying long-term government bonds as they did before because they can get better terms from other borrowers.

There have been other slippery periods like the last seven weeks since the bull market got underway in 1949. And each time it has regained its feet and climbed higher. So the bullish minded say it will gain, as soon as the uncertainties are fathomed.

These are: How long the steel strike will last and how much damage it will do; Whether the cold war will thaw and defense spending be cut and taxes, too; Whether tight money will slow down business expansion and consumer spending.

The bulls think business activity will spur with the end of the strike. They think corporate earnings will increase in the final months of the year and dividends push up to record highs.

The bears—and they are numerous if less vocal—are so sure. They think the important thing is what kind of a steel strike settlement and when—and the after effects on business and prices.

They think the recovery from the recession was topping out even before the strike.

They think the official tight money policy is sure to put a brake on economic growth and hence on earnings. They hold that the tight money policy may halt further inflation and thus cut the ground out from under those who advocate common stocks as a hedge against it.

And they think cold war tensions will keep everyone guessing for a long time yet.

But their chief argument is the price of stocks themselves. Bears hold that some stocks have been bid up so high that it will be a long time before the companies can earn enough to justify them.

The cautious point to the yields of stocks as compared to bonds. They note that when the bull market started in 1949 top grade common stocks were yielding 7 per cent on average and now only 3 per cent. (Yield means the return in dividends you get on the amount money you spend for a stock.)

In the same period the yield of top grade corporate bonds went from 2.7 per cent to 5 per cent. Some government bonds can be bought at prices that yield 5 per cent on the money.

This makes bonds look better than stocks to many investors. Whether the bulls or the bears are right, here is the box score on what has been happening to stock prices:

On August 3 the Associated Press price index of 60 common would create panic, which would greatly inflame the conditions that already exist.

It is almost unbelievable that in the face of this situation Congress should have failed to take adequate action.

The result may well be that the President may have to call Congress into special session before the year is out. Perhaps that is the only way left to focus public attention on the critical problems sketched above and force Congress to meet its duty.

Bulls And The Bears

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK

Is Wall Street's 10-year-old bull suffering from senility? Or is he just resting under a buttonwood tree till the current business uncertainties are cleared up?

The bull market has had a rough time of it since early August. Stock traders are nervous and many of the nation's 12 million stockholders have seen some of their paper profits trimmed.

There have been other slippery periods like the last seven weeks since the bull market got underway in 1949. And each time it has regained its feet and climbed higher. So the bullish minded say it will gain, as soon as the uncertainties are fathomed.

These are: How long the steel strike will last and how much damage it will do; Whether the cold war will thaw and defense spending be cut and taxes, too; Whether tight money will slow down business expansion and consumer spending.

The bulls think business activity will spur with the end of the strike. They think corporate earnings will increase in the final months of the year and dividends push up to record highs.

The bears—and they are numerous if less vocal—are so sure. They think the important thing is what kind of a steel strike settlement and when—and the after effects on business and prices.

They think the recovery from the recession was topping out even before the strike.

They think the official tight money policy is sure to put a brake on economic growth and hence on earnings. They hold that the tight money policy may halt further inflation and thus cut the ground out from under those who advocate common stocks as a hedge against it.

And they think cold war tensions will keep everyone guessing for a long time yet.

But their chief argument is the price of stocks themselves. Bears hold that some stocks have been bid up so high that it will be a long time before the companies can earn enough to justify them.

This makes bonds look better than stocks to many investors. Whether the bulls or the bears are right, here is the box score on what has been happening to stock prices:

On August 3 the Associated Press price index of 60 common stocks reached a record high of 235.8. Last Friday it closed at 217.4. This wasn't much above the 215.8 at which it started the year (a record at that time, too).

The 30 industrial stocks in the index touched a record high of 355.6, also on August 3, and closed Friday at 325.7, compared with 313.9 at the start of the year.

The 15 rails hit their peak July 8 at 147.6 and Friday were 129.4, well below 138.7 at the start of the year. The 15 utilities started at 96, made their peak of 102.6 April 20 and closed Friday at 94.5.

The Dow - Jones averages hit their peaks at relatively the same times as the AP index and have slipped in like proportion.

End Of Life

The shrilling of cicadas in the midday heat is one sign of summer's weakening hold. This sound symbolizes the end of a life as well as of a season.

Cicadas emerge from the ground after a period of from two to 17 years, depending on the species.

At most, their swan song lasts only a few weeks before the first frost. Great numbers perish in storms and late - summer drought. Others are eaten by natural enemies.

After dark, the strident chorus of the katydids provides a sure harbinger of autumn. These green members of the grasshopper family enjoy a brief maturity while summer is ebbing. Only the males sing. Females lay their eggs in twigs or the stems of plants.

Days grow shorter as the arc of the sun's path moves south again. At night Orion, brightest of the constellations, rises higher and higher in the eastern sky. Summer's accumulated heat escapes in the lengthening hours of darkness.

The Friendly Undertaker

By James Marlow

Khrushchev Speaks In A 'Deadly' Tone

WASHINGTON
Nikita Khrushchev sounds like a genial undertaker. The Soviet Premier can tell jokes but he has repeatedly talked of death in one form or another since he came here.

A psychologist might find it gloomy that Khrushchev, who switches from humor to anger in a flash and who has the power to turn the cold war hot instantly, dwells so much on corpses, graves, annihilation, burial and death.

He told the West three years ago "We will bury you," explaining when he got here that he had meant communism would prove itself superior to capitalism. He said he didn't mean the physical act of burying.

Nevertheless, "bury" must be high in his consciousness.

At the United Nations he spoke of the need to bury a dead man—meaning the Formosan government of Chiang Kai-shek — and urged that the "corpse" be carted away.

At one time he mentioned the power of nuclear weapons to take a "terrible toll in human lives" and at another warned they could cause the "annihilation of human beings."

He referred to the colonial system as "moribund," said a question about the Soviet Union's part in crushing the Hungarian revolution was a "dead rat stuck in your throat," and talked of East-West peace as a "question of the life or death of people."

He wondered out loud in Los Angeles if he should commit suicide—this was supposed to be a joke—because he couldn't see Disneyland, and he called for American-Soviet assurance of peace lest the earth be "covered with ashes and graves."

Khrushchev is not a simple man. Now, having elbowed his way to the top of the Communist heap, he is used to having his way without contradiction. That may explain his sudden spurts of anger when he thinks he is short-circuited or affronted.

But there is another possible explanation: that he is a lot less self-assured than he tries to appear. It would be easy, judging from things he says, to consider him arrogant.

But that may be only a compensation for deep-rooted inferiority.

His repeated boasts about Soviet power and his brandishing of rockets, even on this visit, are not the language of a man truly self-confident that Soviet power is acknowledged and respected.

He spends too much time trying to compel respect—too much time at least for a man who firmly believes he has respect.

He is quick-witted. He's tough. But he is also impetuous—for example, his bad temper with the mayor of Los Angeles—and this raises questions about his stability and his patient endurance under stress.

This is probably a matter of concern for Western leaders in dealing with him. It's possible he's been putting on an act here, using temper, backed by Soviet power, as a kind of blackjack.

But the temper is there. If Khrushchev's performance so far could be summed up in a sentence, this might be it: he lacks the grace of a man who is really sure of himself.

Yet Khrushchev himself, in talking at the U.N., pointed out how disastrous the instability of one man could be at a time when one trigger-pull on a hydrogen weapon could start a war or destroy a city.

He said then: "The world has reached a point where on the strength of no more than some ridiculous accident, such as a technical fault in a plane carrying a hydrogen bomb or mental aberration in the pilot behind the controls, may translate war into reality."

Frustrated Genius

By Frank Tripp

The circumstances surrounding my musical career were unique. It seems high time that I cash in on them; which I hereby do in this unethical, though mildly profitable, fashion.

True, I at one time was a minstrel; then impresario and owned the Royal Cosmic Opera Co.; sang roles on desperate occasions.

True also, that I invaded the concert field and without noticeable profit, promoted the debut of Clara Clemens, Mark Twain's daughter, before she became the wife of famed conductor Ossip Gabrilowitsch, who then was her obscure accompanist.

Victor Herbert's woes with his touring orchestra also were associated with my sterling promotion of outstanding flops.

These things musical are known to intimates but herein my really distinguished talents will become first known—that I not only played the zither but also once pumped the organ in the Methodist church.

THE ZITHER entered our modest home through the salesmanship of a young man about 50, who was working his way through college. My mother for very good reason became a pushover for the man who taught the zither in one lesson, pocketed the first payment and departed.

The good reason Mom bought the zither was to get me off a lone trombone that a friend had loaned me, a friend of mine, but not of the neighbors.

You played the zither by shoving a sheet of paper with numbers on it under the wire strings. Then all you had to know was elementary arithmetic.

Sufficient change of tempo could make "Old Black Joe" sound woefully like "Old Rugged Cross" but you always had the name of the piece printed on the paper to prove what you were playing.

Regrettably I returned the borrowed trombone, and moved from the brass to the string section.

I was studying to become first zither in the school guitar and mandolin club, only to learn that no provision had been made to admit the hundred or so suckers who had bought zithers on the convenient monthly payment plan.

IN SPITE OF this frustration, my pipe organ experience should have insured a musical future. The First Methodist Church as yet had no electric motor to pump its organ didn't even have electric lights. Breath of life was kept in the big and very excellent organ by a long lever which worked like a massive pump handle.

The air gauge was to be kept to something like 30 pounds pressure but when Sister Fitch let loose on the big bass pipes it kept me busy to keep up with her.

Otherwise pumping the organ was an easy, respectable and profitable way to attend church. The job paid two bits a Sunday.

I landed the job on two outstanding qualifications. The pumper's booth was remote from the auditorium and the air gauge alone didn't exactly insure a smooth Sunday morning service.

One needed a considerable ear for music to be sure whether the choir was singing or Brother Parsons was suffering another acute attack of asthma. My other qualification was 165 pounds of muscle distributed over six lineal feet of teen-age frame-work.

This was quite a nice job. One could attend church with little sartorial preparation; even in flashy sweater and bicycle knickers. I got credit for attendance, though hidden from the congregation, and the collection plate never got back that far.

ALL WAS going lovely until I learned to smoke. Then, when the parson launched on his 50 minutes of exhortation I would climb out the window, saunter down the street and have a smoke for myself.

I was so engaged one Sunday morning when Brother Symonds came running from the church, frantically waving his arms. There was great confusion. I rushed toward the pump handle but before I could climb through the window the organ pealed forth the strains of an added hymn of which I had not been advised.

Another guy had my job that quick — and kept it. Brother Symonds reported that I not only was absent from my post but was smoking — and right within sight of the church. With that stigma hanging over me I sank lower and lower, even to the depths of a newspaper job.

Something seemed to happen every time I got nicely started on a musical career.

Only four persons registered Saturday boosting the number of qualified electors in East Liverpool to 10,605, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said.

"They're not breaking down any doors to register," he commented. The board today launched continuous 13-hour registration drive to make it convenient for unqualified voters to register.

The unqualified voters will be permitted to register at the board's office on W. 6th St. opposite City Hall or at three branch registration offices in East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights.

The board's office will be open from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. today through Wednesday, the deadline for qualifying, including lunch and dinner hours, O'Hanlon said.

So the Soviet Premier's summary of the debate seems fair enough.

"Our positions are irreconcilable," Khrushchev was quoted. Today should be different.

Along with sightseeing, Khrushchev will drop in on the San Jose plant of the International Business Machine Corp., lunch with the workers in the cafeteria and look at the big electronic monsters that so intrigued him at the American fair in Moscow.

For reasons never made clear, a trip to the Stanford research institution at Menlo Park was canceled.

Tonight, when Mayor George Christopher presides over a dinner, Khrushchev will return to formal speech-making.

The fireworks, appropriately, were saved for the night.

It would have been a rare sight: Khrushchev, who speaks for the toilers of the Soviet Union, and the union leaders, who represent millions of U.S. workers, sitting down to a fancy dinner in the swank Mark Hopkins Hotel.

No outsiders were present. All that is known of what went on comes from a news conference held by the labor leaders.

Until this meeting, the Sabbath was relatively calm for Khrushchev — and a warm reception at the hotel had put him in fine humor.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a ham radio operator. I don't have a license but I've always enjoyed the social activities of the local radio club.

There are a few women operators and most of them are educated and charming. But, as in every group, there's always a lemon.

The lemon calls my husband on the radio almost every night and yaks for hours. If I answer, she coldly tells me to "get a license."

Whenever there's a club party she latches on to my husband for the entire evening. Others have noticed her brazen behavior and raised their eyebrows.

This woman can't cause any real trouble—we're too old for that, but I wonder if I should tell her off.—HAM'S WIFE.

Dear Ham's Wife: Why get down to fishwife level?

A woman who is secure in her marriage has no need to tell off a hussy. She's calm, cool and amused at the whole ridiculous performance.

Be pleasant and friendly. It would be enormously flattering to the lemon to know you're worried that she might get squeezed.

Stretching The Sheets
Dear Ann: As faithful readers of your column we can't forgive you for being a braggart without a sense of proportion. Re your answer to Flo: You said you had ironed enough sheets to reach from Utica, N.Y., to Chicago.

Utica is 645 air miles from Chicago. If large sheets were placed end to end, measuring 8½ feet diagonally, without tying, a total of 40,066 sheets would be used.

Dear G's: Okay — so I'm a braggart without proportion! Will you settle for 10 lashes with a knotted bedsheet?

Dear Ann: Two years ago, at the age of 26, I fell in love for the first time. The guy was handsome, smooth and a classy dresser. He professed his undying love but was dating other girls behind my back and I knew it. I played dumb because I was so crazy about him. I didn't want a showdown.

Three months ago I made the fatal mistake of giving too much. I had the foolish notion it would bind him closer and knock out the competition. Now he runs around and lies to me more than ever.

All he wants to do is come over for dinner, relax and watch TV. He doesn't say a word about marriage (we used to talk about it) and now I'm afraid to bring up the subject for fear he'll think I'm pushing it. It's too late to play coy. He won't settle for a good-night kiss any more.

Please help me. I need it.—DOLLY.

P.S.: Yes, I still love him madly.

Dear Dolly: Your chances for negotiating a marriage contract at this stage of the game are mighty slim. You lost your bargaining power. If you're smart, you'll admit you've reached the point of no return and saw off this freeloader.

Here Are Tips To Help You If Selling House

CHICAGO — Getting a house ready to show to prospective buyers? Then spruce up the plumbing and heating so that it will look as good as possible.

Be sure there are no dripping faucets or leaking valves or pipes. Nothing is more likely to create a negative impression on the mind of a prospective buyer than to see a dripping faucet or leaking valve. Many a prospective buyer, too, has been scared away by the sight of a bucket standing under a leaking pipe.

It's a good idea, says the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, to call a plumbing contractor and to have all leaking faucets, valves and pipe repaired. See that the flushing mechanism of the water closet is in good order. If the water closet seat is cracked or unsightly, it would be a good idea to replace it.

The heating system, too, should be spruced up so that it will look its best. It would be a good idea to call a heating contractor to have the boiler cleaned and the operation of the controls checked. Then you can confidently assure your prospective buyer that the system has been cleaned and checked and is in good working order.

Interest In Music Adds To Decorating Problems

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

The great upsurge to music has uprooted the living rooms of America.

Bach and Beethoven have moved in along with rock 'n' roll, jazz, hi-fi, organ and piano, posing a decorating problem to the homemaker.

Decorator C. Eugene Stephenson, undaunted by the massiveness of musical accoutrements, has come up with a number of practical suggestions for amateur decorators.

"It's a good idea," he says, "not to think of these pieces in terms of largeness, because designers have shrunk them to their component parts, so an organ or piano does not have too much bulk these days. The spinet organ, a tremendously popular item now, has found its way cozily into a number of tiny living rooms."

If you are overwhelmed or stymied by a large object, don't despair, Stephenson advises, and he offers a number of techniques that could be used for minimizing size in planning space for that music piece:

1.—Paint the background wall a dark or similar color to that of the musical piece.

2.—Use a wood wall to match the wood of an organ. Walnut plywood is ideal, or use a screen of wood stretched flat against a wall or with very little projection of its folds. In this way the eye reads the whole wall as one value rather than a dark object against a wall.

3.—Minimize the object by placing it between bookshelves or cabinets which project into a room.

4.—In arranging furniture in

rooms treat musical instruments almost as a desk or large table. One or two arm chairs could be placed at right angles to it so that conversation with the musician may be enjoyed.

5.—If the room is large and can take a room divider, the instrument could be placed at right angles to the wall, and a series of open shelves may be supported by vertical members from floor to ceiling. These could use a lighting system at top, and the shelves could accommodate books or interesting baskets could hold music or other elements of practical decoration. The room divider should be thin, so the bulk of furniture is not increased.

STEPHENSON suggests using controlled lighting so that lamps may be made softer or brighter to match the mood of the music in the general atmosphere of the room.

The background of the music area should be soft, and if the room has a hard surface floor—wood or vinyl, an area rug under or near the musical instrument is important. There are wall materials available, too, with acoustical advantages, he adds.

"Soft colors are ideal for music areas. In a room just completed at the National Design Center in New York, we used a natural suede wall and draperies as a background for a large plaster reproduction of an early 19th-century circus wagon, a Hammond organ, and a large arrangement of potted greens in a corner. The area rug in tones of ivory, burnt orange, terra cotta and beige depicts sound waves."

Lots of minced chives added to creamed potatoes makes a big and delightful flavor difference.

Lumber Industry Program Hailed

WASHINGTON — The president of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association declares that the lumber industry is "stronger and better organized now than at any time in all its history."

Robert M. Ingram, president and general manager of the E. C. Miller Cedar Lumber Co., Aberdeen, Wash., said this stems in part from the fact that distributors are meeting lumber manufacturers "more than halfway" in the sales battle between wood and competitive materials.

IN A SPECIAL article, "New Look Of The Lumber Industry," written for the 1959 Yearbook and Roster of the National Association of Lumber Salesmen, Ingram stated:

"Wholesalers, retailers and commission salesmen seem today to have developed a new drive, a new incentive, a new desire to really sell — not just take orders for — our products."

"How else can you explain the recent action of the National American Wholesale Lumber Association in approving plans for a special salesmen's training course open to all within our industry?"

"How else can you explain the U.S. Mint Makes Money Two Ways"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bureau of the Mint is making money on its money-making operations.

You could do the same if you could legally manufacture 100 pennies for 27 cents or a dollar's worth of nickels for just 12 cents.

That's the kind of profit the mints are making on the production of pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars.

The mint made available to a reporter a study which showed that it makes a profit of 73 cents on every 100 pennies. Manufacture costs come to 8 cents and the metal used in the pennies costs 19 cents. The rest is profit.

On five-cent pieces, it takes only 9 cents worth of metal to fact that certain individual distributors are now considering a plan to set aside a specific sum of money every year for national promotional activities?"

Within recent months, Ingram asserted, greater optimism and a "new faith" in the future have spread throughout the industry.

The NLMA's chief executive attributed this largely to the launching of a $1.3-million National Wood Promotion Program by lumber and wood product manufacturers late in 1958.

ALSO, HE explained, lumbermen have become aware that "America is about to undertake the biggest building project in its history — the construction of a second United States." In this connection, Ingram pointed out:

"By the year 2,000 — only a 40-year mortgage away — this country will have to double all the structures and facilities that now exist."

"Why is all this building necessary? Because, in 40 years' time, the population of the United States will be close to 340 million — about double the present figure."

Quoting from a recent report of the F. W. Dodge Corp., building make a dollar's worth. Manufacturing costs total 3 cents.

The mint business is so profitable that some officials would like Congress to stop making an annual appropriation for the bureau. The money isn't needed, Congress insists on making a token appropriation, however, on the theory this gives the legislators more control over the agency.

In the 1957 fiscal year, the latest for which tabulations are available, the mint had a total income of nearly 94 million dollars. About half of it was clear profit which was turned over to the Treasury's general fund.

All this was done on an appropriation of $3,650,000.

statistics and economics service. Ingram continued:

"As one example of what this will mean, to provide living quarters for our increased population, we will have to build 48 million new dwelling units in 40 years. But this is only a starting figure, because even at modest replacement rates (say a mere three-quarters of one per cent) we will need another 16 million houses to take care of losses from fire and floods, tornadoes and termites, obsolescence and old age."

"In sum, we, therefore, will have to build around 64 million new dwelling units, considerably more than the total stock that now exists. Something of the same sort will be true of every other major type of building and facility from highways to hot dog stands."

THIS GREAT market potential, Ingram predicted, will cause major producers of steel, brick, aluminum and plastics to launch an all-out drive to "double or even triple" the sales of their materials at the expense of wood.

To hold its share of the construction market and develop new outlets for its products, the lumber industry must start preparing now to step-up research, advertising, merchandising and promotional activities at the national, regional and local level, Ingram emphasized.

As one step in this direction, members of the National Lumber Manufacturers Association in November will discuss the outline of a proposed 10-year program designed to put the lumber industry on equal terms with its competitors, he reported.

The program, "Marketing Unlimited," takes into account that "dynamic market growth will be the main feature of the rest of this century and that those who start preparing now to take advantage of this opportunity will be the ones who profit most," Ingram stressed.

Steel Users Back Industry During Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Even though inventories are "dangerously low," steel users are "reaffirming their support of steel management's stand" in the current strike, the Magazine Steel said today.

The metalworking weekly declared that "steelmakers have the solid backing of most of their customers as they continue their fight for a non-inflationary labor contract."

Steel declared that some users "would rather close their doors than see the industry grant wage concessions that could have the double-barreled effect of raising both their employment and raw material costs."

Small and medium size companies are feeling the shortage, the magazine reported. "First they stretched their inventories by shutting down for vacations. Now, they're trying to substitute other sizes, grades, or gages for material they normally would use."

"Next, they'll curtail production and, finally, they'll close their doors."

Big users are better stocked, but some of them already are in trouble, steel reported.

Within two weeks steel inventories will be down to 14 million tons, termed by steel "close to minimum for the current level of economic activity."

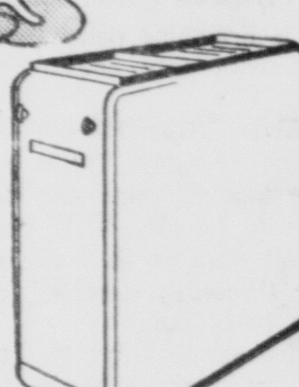

B-W Building Set

CLEVELAND (AP) — Plans for construction of a new $800,000 science building at Baldwin-Wallace College in suburban Berea were announced Sunday by President Alfred B. Bonds Jr. The structure is scheduled to be completed by fall, 1960.

Los Angeles Grabs NL Lead From Giants In Wild Race

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Los Angeles has wrestled the National League lead from the San Francisco Giants but Milwaukee is breathing down the Dodgers' necks only one half game back.

Warren Giles, the National League president, might as well start flipping coins and drawing plans for a playoff. If this race doesn't wind up in a two-way or even three-way deadlock, he will be a lucky man.

After Sunday's 8-2 Los Angeles victory that knocked the Giants from a first-place tie into third place, a full game behind, both the Dodgers and Giants have five games to play, all on the road. The Giants will play day games at Chicago Tuesday and Wednesday while the Dodgers are playing night games at St. Louis. They will switch opponents for three final games next weekend. In the meantime, the Milwaukee Braves, 8-5 winners over Philadelphia Sunday, have six to go. They can tie the idle Dodgers tonight if they can beat Pittsburgh at Forbes Field behind Warren Spahn. The Braves also play night games at Pittsburgh Tuesday and Wednesday. After an off day Thursday, they move home for a final three-game set with the last-place Phillies.

Braves Half Game Behind Dodgers

The Dodgers completed a three-game sweep over the Giants in the final series to be played at Seals Stadium.

A two-game Giant lead of Saturday morning melted when the Dodgers took a day-night doubleheader. Sunday's defeat dropped San Francisco out of the lead for the first time since Aug. 4. It was the first time the Dodgers had held undisputed possession since July 29.

With Johnny Podres opposing Sam Jones, the Giants' 20-game winner, Duke Snider got the Dodgers off to an early lead with his 23rd homer. The Dodgers chased Jones and added another run in the second, two more in the seventh and sewed it up with four in the ninth. Larry Sherry, Sandy Koufax and finally Clem Labine followed Podres, who gave way during a two-run Giant rally in the eighth.

Labine had the bases loaded with nobody out in the ninth but struck out pinch hitter Leon Wagner and got Eddie Bressound to bounce into a game-ending double play.

It took a veteran from the American League, Mickey Vernon, to spark a Milwaukee ninth-inning rally that beat the Phillies. The Braves saw a 5-3 lead disappear when Carl Sawatski hit a two-run homer in the eighth. Vernon's single drove in the first Brave run in the ninth and a second scored when Harry Anderson fumbled the ball. Bobby Avila, another ex-American Leaguer, knocked in the third run off Robin Roberts with a single.

Hank Aaron's 39th homer in the first and Eddie Mathews' 41st with a man on in the third helped build up a 4-0 lead for Lew Burdette. The Braves' 21-game winner was knocked out in the sixth and Joey Jay held off the Phils until the ninth. It was Jay's sixth victory and Roberts' 16th defeat. Pittsburgh clinched fourth place when Vern Law won his 18th, a 10-1 romp over Cincinnati. Dick Stuart led the Pirates with four singles.

St. Louis came from behind with an extra base barrage to whip Chicago 11-4. Hal Smith hit a two-run double and his 12th homer and Stan Musial chipped in with a two-run homer, hit No. 3,200 of his career. Vinegar Bend over Don Elston.

Chicago Teams Tops In Exhibition Contests

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago's twin entry of the Bears and Cardinals—the only two-team bloc in the circuit—snagged top honors during the National Football League's exhibition season.

With the pro clubs settling down today to final preparations for the league's regular season openers next weekend, the Bears reign as champs in the Western Division with a 5-1 record and the Cards in the Eastern sector with a 5-2 mark.

The Bears had an opportunity to wind up pre-season play as the only undefeated team, but lost to Cleveland 33-31 Saturday when Lou Groza kicked a 41-yard field goal with 11 seconds remaining.

The Cards, meanwhile, concluded on a triumphant note Sunday as they handed defending champion Baltimore its second consecutive loss, 31-17.

In other weekend games, Green Bay edged Pittsburgh 13-10, New York defeated San Francisco 17-13, Detroit walloped Washington

31-14 and Los Angeles nipped Philadelphia 31-28. Bobby Mitchell scored twice and Jimmy Brown dashed 70 yards to pace the Browns (2-4) to a 30-14 budge at the end of the third quarter. The Bears drove back behind Ed Brown's passing and took a 31-30 lead when Willie Galimore scored from the 3 with a minute to go. Then Milt Plum pitched Cleveland close enough for Groza to take over.

The Cards, with John Crow scoring on a 36-yard pass from King Hill and on a nine-yard run, whipped the Colts (4-2) by stalling Johnny Unitas and his vaunted aerial attack. Bobby Conrad accounted for 13 Cardinal points with a TD, a field goal and four extra points.

For the second week in a row Paul Hornung scored all the Packers (4-2) points, booming a 44-yard field goal with 10 seconds left to wrap it up. The Steelers (2-4) had tied it as veteran signal-caller Bobby Layne engineered a 9-yard march with Tom Tacy going the final 12 yards.

Chicago, Cleveland Meet In Final 'Crucial' Game

CLEVELAND (AP)—Hold your hats, folks! The American League has at least one more "crucial game" coming up.

It's at Municipal Stadium Tuesday night between the still-breathing Cleveland Indians and the faltering Chicago White Sox, now down to a 3½-game lead. The White Sox, seemingly headed for their first pennant in 40 years, are struck at the magic combination number of 2. Any combination of Chicago triumphs or Cleveland losses adding up to 2 means a flag in the Windy City.

Chicago's lucky number can come up Tuesday night when Early Wynn, the league's only 20-game winner, goes against Cleveland rookie right-hander Jim Perry.

To win the pennant outright—a stranger-than-fiction story if there ever was one—the Indians would have to sweep all their games while Chicago complied by going into a complete swoon and dropping all its games.

The Indians stayed alive by winning their third straight at Kansas City Sunday, 4-3, while Chicago was dumped 5-4 by Detroit. Cleveland has five games remaining, while the Sox have only four.

Cal McLish (19-8) went the distance with a seven-hitter for Cleveland, besting veteran Ned Garver of the A's, who dropped his 13th in 22 decisions. The Indians had a dozen hits, including home runs by Minnie Mino (No. 21) and Tito Francona (No. 20).

The two home runs set a new club season mark of 165, topping by one the record for Cleveland home runs set in 1950.

Mino got the Indians rolling with his first-inning smash. In the third inning, Mino beat out an infield roller to shortstop and rode home on Francona's drive over the right field fence. That made it 2-0.

McLish blanked the Athletics until the sixth when Kent Hadley singled over the pitcher's mound and Bob Cerv cracked his 19th home run to cut the lead to 3-2.

Cleveland got another run in the eighth and it proved the difference when McLish tired in the ninth. Rocky Colavito opened with a single to left and continued to second when Cerv bobbled the ball. Colavito went to third on an infield out and scored on Woodie Held's bouncer into left field.

McLish ran into trouble in the ninth when pinch hitter Joe Morgan legged out a hit near second base. Morgan went to second as Russ Snyder was thrown out. With two out Roger Maris grounded to Vic Power at second and Vic fumbled as Morgan scored. Maris raced to third on Hadley's single to center.

But McLish got Cerv on a grounder to third baseman George Strickland to close out Cleveland's season on the road. It was a highly successful one, showing 46 victories and 31 defeats.

After Tuesday night's battle with the White Sox, the Indians play host to Kansas City in four games starting with a twin-night doubleheader Friday. The Chicagoans end the season at Detroit, where the Tigers—shooting for some first division money—figure to be pesky.

Jockey Bill Hartack won Atlantic City's Merald Stakes in 1958 with Shirley Jones and in 1957 with Sweet Mandy.

LSU Stages Rally In Second Half To Hurdle Rice, 26-3, In First Test

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Louisiana State already over one big hurdle in its march toward a second straight national championship, tangles with tough Texas Christian Saturday as the college football swings into high gear.

Paul Dietzel's Bengals from the Bayou, rated the top team in the country in the pre-season Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters, cut down Rice, 26-3, in their opener last Saturday.

The jury still is out on whether this year's edition of LSU measures up to the '58 version which went through the season undefeated, untied, and then went on to win the Sugar Bowl game. The Bengals were unsteady in the first half and at intermission were behind by 3-0. But their three teams—the White, the Go and Chinese Bandits—got going in the second half when All-America Billy Cannon whipped 17 yards for the first touchdown. That as it turned out, was all LSU needed.

Texas Christian won the Southwest Conference title last year and they say in Fort Worth that the Horned Frogs are bigger and meaner this time around. They won't be pushovers. TCU licked Kansas, 14-7, in its opener.

Oklahoma and Auburn, ranked second and third, respectively, in pre-season estimates, also get into action.

The Sooners have won the Big Eight championship 11 years running and there is no reason to believe that any other team in the conference will change things this year. But Oklahoma can't return to the Orange Bowl under conference rules, so the second-place battle will be a good one. Meanwhile, Bud Wilkinson's lads play highly regarded Northwestern.

This will be the TV game of the week. NBC will televise it starting at 3:15 p.m. (EDT). Oklahoma has met Northwestern only once before. That was in 1939 when the Sooners won, 23-0.

Auburn starts operations at Tennessee. The city of the schedule is that Auburn and Louisiana State do not meet. They are co-favorites for the Southeastern Conference title but go their separate ways all season.

Southern Methodist, which has high hopes of outbattling Texas Christian in the Southwest Conference race and was No. 4 in the pre-season poll, opens against Georgia Tech, a 14-12 winner over Kentucky.

Army, No. 5 and rated the class of the East, entertains Boston College.

Wisconsin and Ohio State, 6 and 7, and the most likely candidates to fight it out for the Big 10 title, also play their openers. The Badgers meet Stanford, while the Buckeyes, a disappointment after being ranked No. 1 in last year's pre-season poll, tangle with Duke. Mississippi, No. 8, goes against Kentucky while Iowa, No. 9, plays California. Ole Miss began by stopping Houston 16-0.

Other than the LSU victory over Rice, the most important game last Saturday was Clemson's 20-18 triumph over North Carolina. This one could have decided the Atlantic Coast Conference winner. The two teams were co-favorites for the title.

Elsewhere, Pitt was hard-pressed to beat Marquette, 21-15; Texas Tech upset Texas A and M, 20-14; Oregon nipped Stanford, 28-27; Navy blasted Boston College, 24-8; Maryland whipped West Virginia, 27-7; Texas shut out Nebraska, 20-0; Washington clubbed Colorado, 21-12; Penn State downed Missouri, 19-3; Arkansas turned back Tulsa, 28-0; South Carolina vanquished Duke, 12-7 and Georgia decisioned Alabama, 17-3.

Stanton Local Registers 12-8 Victory In Opener

Stanton Local High's Ironmen—getting outstanding performances by several young sophomores—inaugurated their 1959 football season by jolting Mount Pleasant, 12-8, Saturday night at the Mounties gridiron.

Coach Fred Sims' well-experienced and husky line kept the Mounties penned safely inside their 30-yard stripe most of the night. Stanton piled up an overwhelming 12-5 edge in first downs.

Sophomore fullback Kent Cline scored the first touchdown of his varsity career in the second quarter on a short dash of five yards, climaxing an Irondale drive of 30 yards following a Mount Pleasant punt.

The Mounties forged to the front momentarily in the second quarter by striking close to the goal line on a long aerial play and then sending Mardis across on a run of six yards. The Mounties rushed for the extra points.

In the third quarter, sophomore halfback Bob Mills, hard-running 185-pounder, decided the game for the Irons when he crashed over from five yards out after an Irondale march of 45 yards.

Both conversion attempts by the Irons—a pass by quarterback Bill Chetock and a rush by Mills—were halted short of the goal line.

Substitutes played a major role in the victory. Sims said, and cited halfback Stan Wickam, Cline and Mills for outstanding performances. End Doug Logan, a senior, was outstanding on defense in the second half, along with Lonnie Fralley, 160-pound senior guard.

Sims' squad seeks its second straight victory Saturday afternoon at 2 at Beaver Local in what shapes up as one of the area's better games this weekend.

Ohioan Wins U.S. Amateur Golf Crown

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—A teen-ager, 19-year-old Jack Nicklaus, today ruled U.S. amateur golf—just like Charlie Coe, the 1958 winner, predicted a year ago.

Coe, 35, lacking some of his old stamina, was beaten 1-up in the finals Saturday by the sturdy blond better from Columbus, Ohio. Coe, upon accepting the runner-up medal, said: "I predicted a year ago that a young man would win the next championship. My prediction was better than my golf today."

Nicklaus, second youngest winner since the tournament began in 1895, edged Coe on the 36th hole—the first amateur championship to go down to the wire since Arnold Palmer's triumph over Bobby Sweeney in 1954.

Nicklaus' card for the 36-hole semifinals over the 7,010-yard, par-71 Broadmoor course was 71-69 and Coe was 69-73. Coe, firing birdies on the first three holes, built up a 3-up lead after 10 holes. Nicklaus squared the match on the 21st and took a 1-up lead on the 32nd.

Ed Dudley, who gave President Eisenhower golf lessons at Augusta, has been the summer pro at Broadmoor in Colorado Springs since 1940.

White Sox Lose To Tigers; Indians Edge Kansas City, 4-3

'2' Continues As Number In Pennant Race

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

The magic number in the American League still is two for the faltering Chicago White Sox with Cleveland still alive and breathing.

Joe Gordon, who has quit as manager of the Indians, is playing out the string. General manager Frank Lane says he stays until the club is eliminated mathematically. Since he said that, the Indians have won three straight.

Just suppose Cleveland wins its last five games and Chicago loses its four. Would Lane let Gordon manage in the World Series? Or would Gordon be entitled to fire Lane?

Of course, that's all hypothetical. With a 3½ game lead, all Chicago has to do is win one more and they can do no worse than tie. Any combination of two White Sox victories or Cleveland defeats and it would be all over.

However, the schedule runs in favor of the Indians the rest of the way with all their games at home while the Sox are on the road. Coming up Tuesday night is the big one with Chicago at Cleveland in their final meeting of the year. After that single game, Cleveland entertains Kansas City in four weekend games while Chicago plays three at Detroit.

The "K" boys from Detroit — Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline — delayed Chicago's efforts to clinch at least a tie Sunday. Each hit a home run in the Tigers' 5-4 victory behind Don Mossi. Sherm Lollar homered for the Sox.

The White Sox now have lost two one-run games in a row. They have dropped seven of their last 10.

Cleveland squeezed past Kansas City 4-3 with the help of homers by Minnie Minoso and Tito Francona. Woody Held's single drove in Rocky Colavito with the winning run in the eighth.

Camilo Pascual pitched his sixth shutout and 17th complete game, both tops in the American League, as last-place Washington romped over Baltimore 5-0. Rookie Dan Dobek hit his first big league homer off loser Billy O'Dell in the first.

Elston Howard's two-run pinch homer was the big blow in New York's 7-4 decision over the Boston Red Sox, who beat them in the season series for the first time since 1948. The Red Sox had a 13-9 edge in the year's competition with the Yanks.

The decisive blow for Detroit was Kaline's two-run homer in the fifth to the disappointment of a crowd of 27,784 who had come out to celebrate. Billy Pierce, knocked out in the fifth, was the loser. Manager Al Lopez brought in Dick Donovan, Turk Lown and Bob Shaw in an attempt to pull it out.

A great catch by Johnny Groh, a replacement for Charlie Maxwell, snuffed out a Chicago rally in the third. His diving stab of Jim McNamany's drive cut off two potential Sox runs.

It was Mossi's 16th victory and his fifth in a row but he wasn't around at the finish. Giving way to a pinch hitter in the seventh, he was followed by Ray Narleski, Dave Sisler and finally Jim Bunning.

Cal McLish won his 19th for Cleveland, which rapped Ned Garver for 12 hits. Bob Cerv, who hit a two-run homer in the sixth, grounded out to end a ninth-inning threat with one run in and men on first and third.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Duke Snider, Dodgers, his 23rd homer gave Los Angeles an early lead they never yielded in 8-2 victory over San Francisco; also drove in run in seventh with single.

Pitching — Cal McLish, Indians, kept Cleveland's hopes alive by beating Kansas City 4-3 for his 19th victory.

It occurred when Randy Jackson came in as a pinch-hitter for the White Sox in the sixth inning of the game Sunday at Chicago. Jackson claimed he was hit by a pitched ball. Akron Back Nets Four TD's Against Mt. Union

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate grid season was off to a running, and passing, start, with the usual setups, setups and surprises dotting the weekend openers.

The big surprise came at Alliance, where Akron trounced Mount Union 29-23 for the Zippers' seventh straight over the Purple Raiders. The surprise was Frank Lomax, Akron halfback, who had been expected to play a bit on defense.

Frank got in on offense, scored touchdowns on runs of 8, 14, 14 and 75 yards for enough points to win all by himself.

In some of the big ones Cincinnati did a bit of table-turning by trimming Oklahoma State 22-9 after last year's 19-14 loss to the same team; Dayton continued its close verdicts over Richmond (Va.) by 6-3, after winning 13-12 a year ago and 12-7 in 1957; Toledo allowed Eastern Kentucky a lone safety for the second straight year as the Rockets added a 20-2 conquest to their 19-2 decision of a year ago, and Ashland, after losing 29 in a row to Wooster, rose up to tie the Scots 6-6.

Heidelberg's Paul Hoerneman, tagged as "the Fox" in coaching circles, proved it again. Of 38 freshmen numeral winners, only 13 returned to school this year, and several hot sophomores also dropped out — but the Student Princes ran over Bluffton 35-3 just a week after the Beavers had opened with a 27-14 nod over Taylor of Indiana.

Otterbein showed strength in a 27-14 win over Findlay, the teams having battled to a scoreless deadlock a year ago. Youngstown converted a fumble and a blocked kick into touchdowns for a 13-12 win over Tennessee A & I, the second straight for the Penguins.

Xavier also made it two in a row with a 28-13 nod over Louisville. The Musketeers, down 13-0 at the half, sent George Noonan in for three last half scores preserve their record of never having lost to the Kentuckians in 10 starts.

With the season barely hatched, the Ohioans have constructed a record of 9 wins, 4 losses and a tie in interstate play, with a scoring advantage of 210 to 155. A year ago the Ohioans had 55 wins, 37 losses and 5 deadlocks, and led the scoring by 1676 to 1400. The 1957 campaign was about as even as a campaign can be as the Buckeye squads won 47, lost 47, tied 5, and scored 1,666 against 1,671.

Next Saturday is a big one, with Ohio State making its debut against Duke in the feature of a 21-game weekend program. Some teams are due to drop from the clean list, including one of the current Ohio Conference leaders — Akron or Muskingum. The lone winners in the league clash at Akron.

Other first week victors due to meet include Heidelberg at Ohio Wesleyan, and Dayton at Cincinnati.

Bucs Clobber Reds, Sew Up Fourth Place

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It was Danny Murtaugh talking but it might as well have been Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cincinnati Reds speaking about hurlers.

Murtaugh said Sunday he thinks "pitchers aren't human beings. They're freaks. One day they look great. Then they change for no apparent reason."

"I don't think anybody knows how to handle pitchers. I just pray."

Murtaugh's Pittsburgh Pirates belted six Cincinnati pitchers liberally Sunday in a lopsided 10-1 victory.

It cut off the Reds' final chance for a first division finish.

It was an especially bleak day for Hutchinson who has some hope of better Cincinnati pitching next year.

Hutch says "our pitching hopes in 1960 are tagged to three youngsters—Jim O'Toole, Jay Hook and Calude Osteen."

"O'Toole and Hook have come along handsomely. They should have the experience to be sound pitchers next season."

"Big Newk (Don Newcombe), Bob Purkey and Joe Nuxhall and those three kids will be our nucleus."

Hook, probably the steadiest of the three youngsters, held the Pirates hitless in the 1-3 innings he pitched Sunday.

But Osteen, roughed up for four hits and four runs—two of them unearned—served only 1-2-3 innings.

Starter Jim Brosnan took the loss. He lasted only part of the first inning, giving up four runs on four hits and two walks.

The Reds were saved from a shutout when Willie Jones doubled in the second inning and Eddie Kasko singled him home. There were only four other Redleg hits off Vern Law, who won his 18th victory.

With Brosnan, the Pirates mixed two passes and singles by Dick Groat, Dick Stuart, Don Hoak and Bill Virdon for the first four runs.

With Osteen, Pittsburgh began the second inning with Bob Skinner's walk. Jones threw wild on Groat's bouncer putting Pirates on second and third. Roberto Clemente singled both home.

Most of the damage was over after the third inning. Skinner doubled in Virdon who had walked. And Groat scored Skinner with a single.

The last Pirate scoring came off rookie Jim Bailey in the fifth. Virdon, Skinner, Groat and Clemente all doubled to produce two more runs.

Top TD Effort Of Young Season

Tuscarawas Back Scores 42 Points Against Indians

Ben Metzger, a 160-pound speedster, scored 42 points and single-handed led Tuscarawas to a 54-26 victory over Salineville Saturday night at Tuscarawas.

It was the top scoring effort of the young football season for an Ohio high school griddier.

Metzger tallied four touchdowns on runs from inside the 15-yard line, took a short pass from quarterback Caviness and hauled in another toss for an 85-yard touchdown play.

He added six more points on runs after touchdowns.

Tuscarawas broke on top with a 16-6 margin at the end of the first quarter, showed a 22-12 edge at halftime and led 38-18 after three periods.

Johnson was the only other Tuscarawas player to break into the touchdown parade.

Dave Gearin, Salineville quarterback, scored on a one-yard plunge and passed for another TD to Ron Dunlap.

Ron Giamone tallied on a 5-yard sprint and Don Hillyer rambled 30 yards for the Indians' final touchdown.

Coach Dick Jones takes his Sa-

Browns Reach Peak In Upset

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coach Paul Brown is confident that the Cleveland Browns' 33-31 upset of the undefeated Chicago Bears in their final exhibition game will give them the right mental edge for the season's opener in Pittsburgh Saturday night.

"It gave us a good feeling to pull one out," he said Sunday night of the comeback in which the Browns downed the Bears with a field goal in the last seconds.

"It tickled the kids to do it."

"We have a large number of youngsters on the squad and they learned things about this pro football. Losing that way in Detroit (in the last two minutes) was a lesson as was that comeback against the Bears."

The coach said the Browns' testing program this summer probably was more thorough than it's ever been.

"The offense is coming along real well. Milt Plum did a fine job against the Bears. He moved us just about every time we had the football."

The victory over the Bears Saturday night was only the second for the Browns in six preseason games.

Fullback Jim Brown went 70 yards up the middle for a touchdown on the second play from scrimmage and halfback Bobby Mitchell scored on runs of 10 and 17 yards. Ed Modzelewski plunged four yards for the other touchdown.

Lou Groza kicked three extra points and a 17-yard field goal in addition to the winning kick from 41 yards out.

The Bears were behind 23-7 at the half and 30-14 at the start of the last quarter, but rallied to take a 31-30 lead late in the period.

Passes from Plum to Preston Carpenter put Cleveland in position for Groza's winning three-point.

Jim Shofner and Warren Lahr, Cleveland defensive backs, had to retire in the first half—Shofner with a bump on the head that made him groggy and Lahr with a wrenched knee. Ray Renfro suffered a hip injury when he dove on a fumble by Jim Brown late in the game.

All are expected to be ready for the Steelers, however.

Confident Living

Dr. Norman Vincent Peale

The Magic Power Of Love

Love has a magic all its own. Really, it's very strange how we overlook the simple truth that if we love people and treat them with kindness, they will love us in return. That is an old theory, but it's as good now as it's ever been. For some days now my family and I have been the guests of a gentle lady, 80 years old. She has snow-white hair, a face overspread with kindness and a happy laugh that makes everyone laugh with her. As I write, I sit in the courtyard of her home in the old city of Jerusalem listening to the music of a splashing fountain. Golden sunshine slants through a tall cypress and a state palm.

THE LIFE of this woman, however, has been far from serene and tranquil. And her delicate gentility does not blind one to her rugged strength and purpose. Bertha Spafford Vester is one of the oldest residents of Jerusalem, Jordan, one of the best known, and admittedly the best loved.

For 77 years she has been a familiar figure to all people of the Holy City, where, in every time of need, she has given herself to the poor, the sick, the needy.

To me, her baby hospital, the Spafford Memorial Hospital, was a most deeply moving of all the sights I saw either in Jordan or Israel, including all the holy places.

The latter are memorials of Christianity. Her hospital for babies and little children is Christianity in current action. I felt the presence of an alive Christ as we passed from bed to bed looking into appealing little faces.

Not only children, but anyone who needs help gets the immediate compassionate assistance of Mrs. Vester. A Bedouin woman came timidly to Mrs. Vester's outpatient clinic where, in 1958, nearly 60,000 people were treated free of charge. Heavily veiled, the woman was hiding something which proved to be a terrible tubercular sore, festering and full of pus, from her ear to her breast.

"It will cost much money for the medicine alone — $500 to cure this woman, and we just haven't got it," said the doctor to Mrs. Vester.

"Yes, I know," was Mrs. Vester's answer, "but the woman must be healed. So start the treatment. I will pray and, as he has done before, God will send the money."

"Did He?" I asked.

HER MERRY eyes twinkled. "Don't you believe there are still Good Samaritans? I prayed and a few days later there came a letter from America. And what do you think it contained?"

"I know," I said, "a check for $500."

She nodded. "Some people would say that's coincidence, but since it's been happening in our work for 75 years, I came to the conclusion that it is more than coincidence; it's the law of prayer and human need."

On prayer, faith and love she has maintained a baby hospital and outpatient clinic that doctors from all over the world come to study.

The one and only doctor in this amazing hospital is Dr. Mahmood Dajani. Scarcely have I know a doctor of deeper compassion and greater skill. He operated on 900 cases in four years with but one casualty. And while lacking needed modern equipment, he compensated by intuitive knowledge, skillful practice and something else.

"I always take a bright outlook on a case. This in turn gives the patient a bright outlook. This helps God to heal them. Yes, I have faith. How could I do this job without it?" he said in charming Arab - accented English.

I have visited Bethany, the Mount of Olives in Jordan and the Sea of Galilee in Israel — all places where Jesus walked in the long ago. But actually I walked with Jesus as I made the rounds of the children's ward with Dr. Dajani.

I remembered that Great Physician who healed people in the very streets outside this hospital. It is the one place in the Lands of the Bible that I actually felt close to the Lord, except for a moment when I stood at Capernaum with the waters of Galilee lapping at my feet. There He healed people too.

AND THERE was one other moment when I felt the Presence. It was the day we drove with Mrs. Vester to Emmaus, that little town where Jesus, after His crucifixion, appeared to two disciples as they walked.

Well, now this village is on the tensely - guarded border between Jordan and Israel where good people on both sides of the line live in enmity. We wanted to see if we, too, might "meet" the Lord on the road to Emmaus. As we neared the border Jordanian soldiers stopped us politely but a bit sternly. Then the husky sergeant saw Mrs. Vester. He ran to her and kissed her hand. There was love in his whole attitude, love mixed with veneration.

As we passed on she explained, simply, "He was one of my babies." As she spoke, I had my meeting with Jesus on the Emmaus Road.

Burglars Obtain Food At Columbiana Market

LISBON — About $25 worth of food was taken between 9:30 p. m. Friday and 9:30 a. m. Saturday at the Macheater Market at the junction of Routes 7 and 14 east of Columbiana, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan. The market is owned by Florence Manchester.

Chief Deputy James Miller, who is investigating, said a pane was broken in a window, then the burglars reached in to open the lock. They left by the rear door, he said.

Taken were two gallons of maple syrup, half of a smoked ham, six cans of coffee, and 10 jars of jelly.

Court Awaits Lawyer; Neff Hearing Delayed

The case of Samuel G. Neff, former state senator, and four others on charges of extortion and conspiracy to commit extortion was delayed this morning in Beaver County Court, awaiting the appearance of Atty. Louis Glasco of Pittsburgh.

Glasco, along with the firm of Hudacsek & Lewis of Beaver Falls, will represent Neff. Four others also charged in connection with alleged "kickbacks" in the Beaver County Division of the State Highway Department include Edward Nitsche, Robert Yoho, Leon Kaleta and James Macry, all former employees of the county highway division.

All five were indicted Friday by the Beaver County Grand Jury following an investigation by District Atty. Richard Steward.

837 Salk Doses Bought For County School Area

LISBON — A total of 837 Salk Vaccine shots has been purchased by the Columbiana County Board of Education for pupils in the jurisdiction of the county school system, according to Supt. James L. McBride.

Polio clinics in the five school districts will be set up and conducted by the County Health Department as required by a new state law. It is expected they will begin this month.

Each county school will collect $1 per shot from students able to pay to reimburse the county Board of Education. No fourth or "booster" shots will be given, McBride said.

Second and third round shots will be given later to students who require them and more serum will be purchased at that time.

It Was Plain Old Nikky

By SAUL PETT
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was just plain old Nikita Khrushchev, simple man of the people, friendly politician, smiling hand-shaker, warm-hearted lover of children, staunch opponent of sin, four-square.

Any moment we expected him to say, "Why don't all you good folks just call me Nikky."

This was the Khrushchev that emerged in a bizarre train ride from Los Angeles to San Francisco — a ride which included touches of the space age, William Jennings Bryan, taut melodrama, low comedy and a running interview that looked like a floating crap game.

The long, orange and red train was loaded with sullen, furtive

Soviet security men and nervous-looking American security men. Up ahead, Army helicopters hovered protectively over the track. Alongside, police cars raced along parallel highways.

Sheriff's deputies guarded the bridges. In some yards, uniformed police stood watch from the tops of freight cars. In the mountain passes, we half expected Indian scouts.

Then at Santa Barbara, the poor sheepherder who made good as the chairman of the Council of Ministers of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics decided to do a little whistle-stopping.

He emerged smiling, waving, clasping his hands over his head like a Russian Tony Galento. He shook hands with the people and "the people," Nikita Khrushchev announced, "are wonderful — the people want peace."

A little girl of about six waved and the master of the Kremlin waved back. He was touched, he said — "just think, a little girl waving at a Communist!"

Back aboard he came and later, just when we were beginning to think the unpredictable Mr. Khrushchev would stay put for awhile, he suddenly showed up in the press cars, preceded by six Soviet halfbacks.

Photographers screamed from the tops of seats. Reporters closed in. Khrushchev moved forward from car to car, his party commanding the aisle while reporters raced after him over the backs of seats.

Khrushchev talked easily, shooting in all directions.

No, he didn't bother to notice the missile center at Vandenberg Air Force Base — "We've got enough of our own and ours are better."

Blast Hurlled At Those Who Snub Vaccine

CINCINNATI (AP)—The dean of Ohio State University Medical School took a verbal swipe today at people who ignore Salk polio vaccine.

And the dean, Dr. Charles A. Doan, said it looks like the researcher who develops a useful solution to a disease must turn salesman to get people to use it.

"Disease is not a respecter of any people and people, by and large, the world over are no respecters of disease," he said.

Dr. Doan's comments were in a talk prepared for dedication of the new Wherry Medical Research Building at the University of Cincinnati.

He said: "The physician-investigator must not only seek the solution to the diagnostic and therapeutic problems of disease.

"But after he finds them, he must then persuade the lay public to accept and use them.

"Witness the clamor for the prevention of poliomyelitis with the magnificent public response to the annual nationwide fund drives for many years.

"We find our preventive vaccine a reality, but a drug on the market through public procrastination and indifference with this disease still is a dangerous threat.

"Yes, the good American physician of today must in addition to his scientific knowledge and expert medical training be also to his patients priest and philosopher, with a world citizen's point of view, with broad humanitarian sympathies and with an insatiable curiosity for new discoveries."

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

The Fall TV Season's Upon Us

The fall season, bless my soul, arrived last weekend, at least on the home of total television. (If you don't know which network that is, NBC is certainly wasting its money.)

NBC unveiled three of its new fall entrants — "The Man and the Challenge," which had its hero up in a balloon; "Riverboat," "Ri verboat," where the guy was on a paddle-wheeler, and "The Deputy," where in Henry Fonda used a horse for locomotion.

Fonda, making his television debut in horse opera, is out there pacifying the old West — in this case Arizona.

The very first affray was against some train robbers and the very first shots, showing the bandits overtaking the train on horseback, looked so startlingly like "The Great Train Robbery," the very first movie ever made, that I thought the industry had been set back about 80 years.

WELL, "THE DEPUTY" never is going to get confused with the works of Henrik Ibsen, but it is a good-natured enough shoot-'em-up, as those things go. Fonda is a very urbane and relaxed deputy sheriff and the old chestnuts are leavened with humor. It's a triumph of personality, really.

I guess he doesn't plan to kill himself with overwork. There's a handsome young actor named Allen Case who shares the shooting and acting chores and also an older Marshall, Wallace Ford — every age group being represented and placated. It ought to do well.

AS FOR "THE MAN and the Challenge," a title that sounds more like a Sunday afternoon egghead type show, it, too, opened with a shot of a train—but this is that rocket-propelled thing that goes about 1,000 miles an hour out on the Western desert.

Right at the opening there is some tall talk about the insurmountability and onward march of science, tra la tra la, and the great stout-hearted men of science who push us upward and onward.

But when you get right into it, "The Man and the Challenge" is just frontier adventure stuff with a new setting. The new frontier is the laboratory and sooner or later the package boys were bound to exploit it. (It's a Ziv production.)

With Russia landing a shot on the moon, this couldn't be more timely. The hero is George Nader who last year was playing Ellery Queen.

In this one he's an athlete, doctor and scientist, who trains men to run rocket ships and conquer space and like that, which shows the direction heroism is going to take this season.

On his first show, Mr. Nader, who has a pretty young assistant for companionship, romance and helping out with the control switches, heads up to 100,000 feet in a balloon weathering storms and malfunctions and no oxygen.

"You have a very high pain threshold," he tells his girl tenderly which, I guess, is how they pitch woo in the troposphere.

Despite science and malfunctioning gadgets and some pretty racy dialogue — "We're trapped in a temperature inversion" — it's pretty much "Tom Swift and His Magic Air Rifle" all over again. In short, malarkey with science fiction coating.

I expect the youngsters will love it.

AS FOR "RIVERBOAT," that's way-down-South type nostalgia adventure.

Darren McGavin, who has been playing Mickey Spillane's hero, Mike Hammer, is running a riverboat up and down the Mississippi in this one.

To be quite honest, I saw only about half of the first one (because I just didn't turn it on in time, that's why), but I was mighty impressed by the picture quality.

The shots of the old paddlewheeler going up river in the moonlight are just great. So are the lighting and camerawork and general know-how of the more intimate shots.

The story sounded pretty good, too, but I can hardly judge half a script, so I'll wait till I see some others. I hope it isn't all ordinary adventure stuff.

McGavin in an interview the other day was boasting that within six weeks "Riverboat" will change the viewing patterns of the country. Since it's up against the very potent "Maverick," that's a pretty large brag.

10,000 Marchers Protest K's Visit

CLEVELAND (AP) — An estimated 10,000 persons marched through downtown Cleveland Sunday in a solemn, funeral-like procession, protesting Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's visit to this country.

Many in the line of march were sons and daughters of 17 European captive nations. Some wore black armbands. Others carried black-draped flags of the nations that have lost their freedom to Communism.

Julius Smetona, son of the former Lithuanian president, told the crowd in brief ceremonies at the mall on the lakefront following the march that the Soviet premier's visit will only strengthen Russian prestige.

"Khrushchev's invitation to come to the United States is important to him," the Cleveland attorney said. "But there is no good for our country in it."

An hour of prayer at St. John's Catholic Cathedral—where thousands of worshippers overflowed onto the sidewalks—preceded the march.

Fire Menaces Home, Garage

A grass fire which had burned to within 10 feet of the home and garage of Frank Bowersock of Clark St. in East End was extinguished by Liverpool Township. East, volunteer firemen Saturday afternoon at 2:10.

About a quarter of an acre was burned over, firemen said. The blaze was spotted by City Fireman Don Hancock, who turned in the alarm. Eleven men responded. Firemen said the fire had been set deliberately and then got out of control.

Two minor calls and a false alarm were answered by city firemen over the weekend.

An extinguisher was used to quell a grease fire under a grill at the National Restaurant, 123 E. 6th St. Saturday afternoon at 1:36.

Firemen disconnected an electric clothes drier which had shorted at the home of Mrs. Sally Moore, 500 W. 9th St., Sunday night at 7:53.

The false alarm was turned in by telephone Saturday at 4:22 p.m.

How To Get The Best Education

College Hopefuls Need Your Help; Get The Project Under Way Early

This is the 12th of 15 articles, condensed from the book, "How To Get The Best Education For Your Child," written by the former education editor of The New York Times and his wife, an educator herself.

By DR. BENJAMIN FINE AND LILLIAN FINE

Most good colleges are overcrowded. They have three or four more applicants for every vacancy. And the situation is going to get worse.

Some prospective students are going to be rejected. Most of them will be the ones with inadequate preparation, low test scores, personality difficulties, and lack of drive.

But some will be average or better than average kids who just don't know how to accomplish the increasingly difficult feat of getting admitted to a good college.

Most college-bound youngsters need help. What can you do? Start thinking about the problem early, especially the financial angle. Banks, insurance companies, mutual funds, and investment brokers all have plans for helping you finance your children's education—if you start early enough.

MAKE SURE your son or daughter really wants to go to college. If, in spite of all your efforts, your youngster doesn't like books and doesn't like to study, if he has not done well in high school, it is likely to be a waste of time and money to send him.

Encourage youngsters to begin thinking about college when they are in junior high school. If possible, invite college students to your home during vacations and get them to talk about their experiences. Visit college campuses.

Make sure your youngster is taking the high school courses required for admission. Encourage him to try the College Entrance Examination Board tests. Several hundred colleges require or "suggest" that candidates for admission try these tests. It costs about $15. Write to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., for information about them.

It usually is a good idea to take the tests for practice in the 11th grade to find out any weak spots.

THERE IS NOT ENOUGH scientific evidence as yet to suggest that a student can improve his score by cramming. But, if properly tutored, for about 15 weeks, students may be able to raise their score by as much as 100 points.

Most colleges now ask that the student who applies be in the upper half of his class, and have an above-average College Board score. The score ranges from 200 to 800. The average is 500. However, your youngster should aim for 600 if he is anxious to go in to a school such as Harvard or Princeton.

Get to know the principal and encourage the youngster to have an interview with him about his college plans. College admission officials take very seriously the information they receive about a candidate from his high school principal.

Marks come first, but extra-curricular activities count too. Where competition is severe, such activities may be the deciding factor. However, it's the quality, not the quantity, that counts.

BEFORE YOU DECIDE which college to consider you must know what your boy or girl wants to get out of college and where his vocational abilities lie. Too often high school youngsters do not know these things themselves, which adds to the difficulty. We recommend strongly that your child, not you, be the determining factor as to the college to be selected.

Are colleges costly? Yes, and getting more so each year. It will cost about $2,000 to send your child for one year to a campus college. The Ivy League colleges charge from $1,000 to $1,400 for tuition alone. Add room and board, travel, incidentals, books, and other fees and the total figure mounts rapidly. Within two or three years the average college cost will range from $2,500 to $3,000.

Some colleges have "work-study" programs that permit a student to earn a good share of expenses. Others have part-time employment bureaus. But lack of money need not deprive a bright, energetic youngster of a college education. Some 15,000 scholarships go begging every year!

A GOOD COLLEGE should have these qualifications: 1. A good general reputation. 2. Accreditation by the recognized regional and professional groups. 3. A good faculty. 4. Good administrators. 5. Recognition by the honor societies. 6. Strong courses in the field of your child's special interest. 7. A liberal scholarship policy. 8. Good library and laboratory facilities.

Death Takes Mechanic Who Filed Damage Suit

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—An auto mechanic who recently had filed a huge damage suit against General Motors Corp. died Sunday in a hospital of injuries on which he based his claim.

Forrest Burton Large, 35, of Rt. 1, Proctorville, Ohio, had been a hospital patient since Sept. 4, 1958, when he was injured while at work in a Huntington garage.

In the federal court suit for $956,000 against General Motors, Large and his wife, Helen alleged he was injured because of a "faulty air suspension device" which collapsed while he was working under a car made by GM.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I eliminate the odor from a kitchen knife that's been used for slicing onions?

A. By holding the blade over the flame of a match. Be sure, though, not to hold it in the flame too long and don't hold it over a gas flame, because prolonged intense heat is likely to spoil the temper of the blade.

Q. How can I rejuvenate a pair of suede shoes?

A. One often-effective way is to rub the shoes with a cloth or sponge moistened with white vinegar. After the shoes have thoroughly dried, brush them gently with a brass-wire suede brush.

Q. Is it true that thunder will sour milk, as commonly believed?

A. No. There are bacteria in milk which feed on the sugar, causing it to acidulate. Just before an electric storm the air usually becomes warmer, causing these bacteria to multiply more rapidly.

John H. Garver, chief negotiator for the Independent Petroleum Workers Union, said Sunday it was "one of the finest settlements—it pleased the whole membership." The contract, to run until July 15, 1960, raises wage scales for drivers to $2.72 an hour.

County Gets $125,182

LISBON—State Auditor James A. Rhodes has issued a check for $125,182 to Columbiana County, representing the final distribution of funds for 1958 auto license tags. Another $1,417 was disbursed to the county for poor relief, along with $372 for East Palestine and $762 for Salem, also for relief.

Odd And Interesting

By W. L. GORDON

The vice president of a Philadelphia advertising agency recently said, "The newspaper has become so integral a part of everyday living that we don't realize its true importance until some act deprives us of it. The oldest means of mass communication has yet to be confronted with a substitute. No other medium has served so well for so many years."

OSU Professor Will Speak At Workshop Of Teachers

LISBON — Dr. H. Gordon Hullfish, professor of education at Ohio State University, will be the keynote speaker for the Columbiana County Education Association's annual fall workshop Friday, Oct. 2, at the Fairfield-Waterford High School.

Ralph Myers, association president and Fairfield - Waterford principal, said topics for the all-day meeting will be "New Challenges In Education" and "Meeting Extremes In the Regular Classroom."

Dr. Hullfish is a native of Washington. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Illinois in 1921 and attended Ohio State, receiving the master of arts degree in 1922 and doctor of philosophy degree in 1924. He joined the OSU faculty in 1922 and has held his present position since 1933.

He is the co-author of several books, including "The Educational Frontier," "Democracy In Transition," "The Community School," "Educational Freedom and Democracy" and "Democracy In the Administration of Higher Education."

He has just returned from a year in Japan where he lectured on history and principles of American Education at Tokyo University and Ochanomizu Women's University.

Dr. Hullfish has held offices in a number of national organizations. He was president from 1952-55 of the Progressive Education Association, which was dissolved in 1955; president of the Philosophy of Education Society in 1948 and president of the Ohio Valley Philosophy of Education Society in 1951. He was elected president of the John Dewey Society in 1958-1959.

He has also taught during summer sessions at Harvard University, City College of New York, University of Hawaii, University of California and University of Illinois. He was a lecturer at the 1936 Pan-Pacific Conference of the new educational fellowship at Honolulu and has served in that capacity at various other institutions and conferences.

For many years he was a member of the Board of Editors of the Journal of Educational Administration and Supervision, is currently on the Editorial Board of Education Theory, and in 1957 was named to a three-year term on the Editorial Advisory Board of Education Digest.

During World War I, Dr. Hullfish served in the Army Medical Corps.

Schoolboy, 16, Victim Of Russian Roulette

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 16-year-old high school student lost his life playing a game of Russian roulette, with the deadly odds increased by two cartridges instead of the usual one.

William G. Godfrey died in DePaul Hospital Sunday. Police said the boy shot himself with his father's .38 caliber revolver at his home Saturday night.

Tire-Capping Plant Eyed At Penitentiary

CHARLESTON (AP) — The addition of a tire recapping plant to the industries at the West Virginia state penitentiary at Moundsville is under consideration.

Public Institutions Commissioner Harold E. Neely said so over the weekend. He explained that such a plant would be relatively inexpensive to put in and would provide work for a large number of prisoners.

There are about 250 men among the 1,800 at the penitentiary who are eligible for parole but cannot get out because they are unable to line up work, one of the requisites. Neely said he believed that experience with tire recapping would give them a good chance.

He pointed out that, in addition, the state would realize a sizable economy, since the tires could be used on its cars.

Interest Boost Eyed On FHA-Insured Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — An increase in the maximum interest rate on FHA-insured loans is under consideration.

A ½ per cent boost, to 5¼ per cent, may be announced this week by the Federal Housing Administration. Some officials said smaller increase, to 5½ per cent, also is being considered, but they indicated the higher figure is more likely if a change is made.

Congress this year authorized an increase to 5¼ per cent in the maximum interest on GI loans — those guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. The ceiling rate for FHA loans has normally been kept higher than that for GI loans.

Mrs. K Takes Tour In Stride; Appears To Be Enjoying Self

By FRANCES LEWINE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Serenity is the word for Mrs. Nina Khrushchev in the midst of her husband's unpredictable, hectic and free-wheeling tour.

Mrs. Khrushchev is on her first trip to a country of the West. Is she relaxed amid America's top diplomats, officials and movie stars?

"I've never seen her otherwise," reports her official hostess, Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge, the tall, blonde wife of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Boston-born Mrs. Lodge, who moves with polished grace in diplomatic and social circles, calls the tour "an experience I will never forget."

Mrs. Lodge believes the whole Khrushchev family is enjoying the visit to America, even if at times it may seem otherwise. Here are some of her impressions.

"Almost everything interests Mrs. Khrushchev," she says, "the countryside, cattle, even the roofing on a house."

Mrs. Khrushchev laughed out loud at the Broadway musical "The Music Man;" liked the farm at Beltsville, Md., best of all. She seems to know a lot about trees and vegetables, spotting them accurately.

The Khrushchevs—that is son, Sergei, and married daughters, Rada and Julia—and Papa Nikita—appear to be a very close family "and I think they have fun together."

They're not formal at all, and Mrs. Khrushchev is "definitely sort of the nucleus of the family."

Mrs. Khrushchev's English is fine for chit-chat but an interpreter is needed for anything complicated. Daughter Rada speaks very good English.

Traveling with the Khrushchevs is relaxing, Mrs. Lodge says.

"I never feel there's a cold, awkward silence. They're receptive if you talk and they talk back in return."

Unemployed Laborer Confesses To Slaying

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Police said an unemployed laborer today confessed slaying John A. Brown, 42, a custodian at Akron City Hall.

Brown, his empty wallet lying nearby, was found dying along the Ohio Canal Saturday. He died in St. Thomas Hospital of bullet wounds about two hours later.

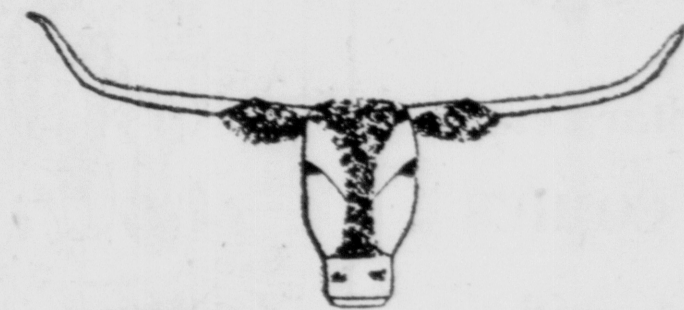

Louis Fisher, 26, of Akron, was arrested Sunday night in Cleveland.

Detectives said he admitted the slaying, but gave no details. Charges have not been filed.

Rural Group To Meet

LISBON — Ideas for next year's projects and for making Christmas wreaths will be presented at the Salem-Perry Township Home Demonstration Group's meeting Wednesday from 1 to 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ralph Phillips of the Salem-Lisbon Rd., across from the Salem Golf Course. Miss Julia Shank, Columbiana County extension agent in home economics, announced the event.
